

Bread, Work, Freedom -

Feminism, Resistance, and Social Justice in Afghanistan

A discussion with:

Sajia Behgam

Research Associate, University of Applied Sciences, Frankfurt

Somaiya Meer

PhD candidate at European University Viadrina; former associate professor at Kabul University

Zahra Mousawy

Director & Founder of the Afghanistan Women's Studies Academy (AWSA)

Organisation and moderation by Nerges Azizi and Abdullah Athayi

On 24 June, 2025, 17:00-19:00

In English

No registration required

Room 3059

Humboldt Universität Hauptgebäude

Unter den Linden 6, 10117 Berlin

This event takes the slogan “Naan, Kar, Azadi” (Bread, Work, Freedom) as a point of departure to critically engage with questions of feminism, resistance, and social justice in contemporary Afghanistan. Through a panel discussion, we want to reflect on the deeper meanings of the slogan and how it articulates a broader vision for the reorganization of society, in which individuals have the means to sustain themselves, care for their families, and live with dignity and freedom.

For questions write to us: bim.arh@hu-berlin.de